Stop 'vomit' sprayings; anti-abortionist pleads

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

An appeal to end the area wide "vomit smelling sprayings" at Michigan abortion clinics has been pressed by Ann Thomas, president of the Right to Life-Lifespan of Metro Detroit.

The appeal was issued last week following the sprayings at eight Michigan abortion clinics, including the one at 10000 Michigan Avenue in Romulus across the street from Romulus Senior High School.

"Such violent activity is in direct opposition to everything Right to Life-Lifespan stands for."

"The violence occurring each day inside abortion clinics to mothers and their unborn babies will not be stopped by wrongful acts of violence against abortion clinic properties," Thomas stressed.

"Such activity hardens the mind and hearts of people on both sides of this issue and makes the possibility of providing legal protection to mothers and their babies even more difficult," she concluded.

The sudden flurry of the "vomit smelling" sprayings at Michigan area abortion clinics began early last week. Apparently someone in Romulus drilled a dime-sized hole in the rear of the Michigan Avenue building and injected the chemical spray onto the hallway rug inside.

Linda Spray, director of the Northland Family Planning Clinic, said when the pungent smell was first discovered Tuesday morning, no one knew what it was or at whom it was aimed.

"But after finding the hole in the rear of the building, learning other clinic sites in Michigan were similarly affected and growing headaches were being reported among staff members throughout offices in the building, we realized we might have been the target."

"We weren't seeing any clients on Tuesday, so we sent

A major de-smelling effort was conducted in the hallways of the building housing the Northland Family Planning Clinic, 10000 Wayne Road on Monday evening, in a bid to rid the offices of the putrid vomit smell that was sprayed inside the week before.

But one tenant, attorney Murray Duncan, who has offices on the second floor, said, "The building now smells like the deodorant they place in your vehicle at the car wash."

Duncan said he was the first one to discover the smell last week. "When I opened the front door, I thought someone had died."

He said he quickly called his wife, Jane, and told her "something is awfully wrong here."

Later that day when he went to Wayne County Circuit Court, Duncan said, he found everyone staring at him. "Then I realized that I was bearing that foul aroma on my clothes," he said.

"I asked those in court if they wanted me to leave," he said. It was a unanimous decision on their part, so I left," he said.

Tuesday and Wednesday he had to meet his clients outside the building and then adjourn their sessions to McDonalds or some other nearby building.

"Thursday and Friday I had to keep my suit in my car and wear other clothes into the office," he said. "Then I'd have to go to my parents' home or some other location to change if I needed to wear my suit."

He also had to discard a brand new pair of shoes.

With a fresh string of attacks being reported Monday by metropolitan area media, Duncan said he is afraid the stink bomber may strike here again.

While it is believed that the person who sprayed the foul smelling liquid on the hallway rug was aiming to disturb the abortion clinic activities, it in effect actually impacted the first floor office of Dentist Kundan B. Sata more.

Sata reported that when the aroma was first discovered, no one knew for sure what caused it.

She explained some thought "that someone had thrown up, because the carpet was still wet. Other possibilities were that someone had spilled copier fluid on the floor or even that the building's sewer line had backed up."

But after an investigation by the health department, Romulus Fire Department and Department of Public Works, it was found that a "stink bomb supposedly intended for the family planning clinic" was the problem.

The unfortunate incident really affected innocent people including her staff and patients, Sata said, as her office entrance was in direct line with the chemical drop.

"We kept our office and business closed for protection of our patients and staff several days, as other offices including the family planning clinic operated as if nothing had happened."

The horrible smell, she said, prompted headaches, upset stomachs, burning eyes and throats. In addition it left a lasting smell on clothing and bodies.

The perpetrator's purpose was not served, Sata said. "I hope that people of Romulus and around the metropolitan area now understand that differences of opinion should not be solved in this manner."

Teachers urged to show compassion

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

William Millikin once was so angry with society that his local high school teacher urged him to quit school.

Now 30 to 40 years later, Millikin states "God has a good sense of humor, because I'm being called back now to motivate educators."

Millikin, author of the book "Tough Love", told more than 300 Romulus educators at a staff appreciation luncheon last Wednesday "society is in deep trouble today, because we blew out the safety net" also known as the extended family.

Teachers are being called upon to be multi-faceted social agents and teach at the same time, he explained.

Millikin, who followed an educational technology talk by Romulus Superintendent of Schools Dr. William Bedell, admitted students still critically need the 3 R's and how to use computer technology.

But, he warned, they also need a strong dose of what he calls the 3 P's.

The 3 P's include:

- A personal relationship with a positive person.

- A place to stay that is safe.
- A platform to contribute to society.

"What I'm getting to," he said, "is every youth needs to know there is someone out there who intensely cares whether he or she succeeds or not."

In addition they need a safe place to stay part of the day, such as a school or home. And they need a platform from which they can play out their positive social role.

Voters to decide on refund of funds from county

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Should monies generated from one-tenth of a mill levied upon Wayne County property owners since 1988 for a model youth services program be returned to the cities in the form of grants?

That question, in the form of a proposal, and two other county proposals, will be decided in November by Wayne County voters.

Voters in the county will also be faced with two separate proposals, one a request for more taxes to support health services for the indigent, and a third, for a county reorganization plan.

In 1988, county voters approved a one-mill tax increase to construct and operate a jail facility for misdemeanor prisoners. One-tenth of the mill, however, was to be used to build and operate a juvenile offender work-training institution.

As of July 31, 1992, according to a laborious report put together by Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard, whose district includes Westland and Inkster, there is approximately $6.9 million in unexpended revenues in the account as of July 31, 1992.

Those funds, placed in the general funds, have been difficult to identify, according to Beard. "There has been on accounting of the funds, even though the commission has asked the county executive's office to do so," Beard said.

Members of the Conference of Western Wayne County, and most county municipalities, would like the monies returned to them.

"However, since the money was approved by the voters of the county, it would be up to them to decide how and to whom that money will be returned," Beard added.

Beard criticized officials at the Wayne County Executive's Office for their lack of cooperation.

"The CEO has this belief that they don't have to do what the people have voted for," Beard continued. "We have been so upset, so frustrated to get the money out but we aren't giving up. We just aren't getting any cooperation from them (the county executive)," Beard said.

Beard also chastised the media for "not tracking what the county executive is doing."

Under county resolution No.92-476, the county commission has attempted to establish by ordinance (No.92-115) a policy which provides for the return to local units of government all special millage funds which are not expended for the Model Youth Services System within two years after their collection, but has been advised by the corporation counsel that this policy is an intrusion into executive prerogative and there is absolutely no question, legal or political but the Chief Executive Officer and County Commission are accountable to the electorate of Wayne County...the commission has proposed that the county electorate decide the issue.

The ballot proposal reads: Shall the authority granted to the Wayne County Commission to levy one-tenth mill for a model youth services system until 1997, be changed to allow that all funds not expended within one year after collection for that purpose be instead returned by grant to municipalities to the amounts collected from each municipality, for the purpose of providing local youth programs?

County voters will again be asked to support a half-mill (50 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) for 10 years to provide health and medical care needs for the indigent.

Voters turned down a similar proposal earlier in the year.

The county is mandated by charter (section 3.117) to assure that there is an adequate level of physical and mental health services for the residents of the county, however, rising costs in the health care industry has jeopardized the county services to the poor.

Finally, county voters also will decide an amendment to the present City Charter that, if approved, "would assure a county commission review and approval of the reorganization plan at least once each four years, by clarifying that a plan expires 180 days after the state of each term of the CEO, or sooner if a new plan is adopted."

That proposal is confusing. It was apparently precipitated, according to a resolution approved by the commissioners, because the "present CEO (Edward McNamara) has neglected to devise and submit a new plan, but has continued to operate as if the expired plan were still in being...and that 'this neglect raises many unanswered questions with regard to expenditure authority for current year appropriations, and clouds and confuses many other issues.'"

All three proposals will be placed on the Nov. 3 ballot.

'Center' celebration is planned

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

The Second Annual Center Birthday celebration in Wayne is scheduled for tomorrow through Sunday.

The event marks the 1978 opening of the health and fitness facility in the Wayne Community Center. Center officials have organized a variety of events for families, according to Cathy Broge, assistant manager of the center.

"We have activities planned for the entire weekend," Broge said. "We're rolling back prices to 1978."

A mousercise is scheduled for 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Saturday. Cost is $2. Participants will receive a button, balloon and lunch by Taco Bell. Children 3 to 10 years old are welcomed.

"We also have racketball on Friday night and Saturday morning for adults and wolleyball on Sunday," Broge said. "Cost is $5 for racketball and $15 for each wallyball team."

Face painting by the Wayne Figure Skating Club is scheduled for Saturday. On Saturday at 1 p.m. a Ju Jitsu demonstration will take place.

"Family day is Sunday," Broge said. "Children must be accompanied by an adult. Events are scheduled from noon to 5 p.m. Children who come to the weight room must be at least 8 years old."

Center officials have also planned a grand prize giveaway. The center member with the lucky ticket will receive a jacket with the center logo on it, according to Broge.

Pre-registration is necessary for all the events. Call 728-2900 for more information.

ROMULUS NEWS DIGEST

South Pacific production readied

Romulus seniors will be invited to viewing a live production of South Pacific at the Wyandotte Community Theater Oct. 1.

Senior citizen tickets for the show will cost $7, with $1.50 extra for transportation. Those attending the play also are urged to bring extra money for dinner.

Romulus soldier completes training

Pvt. Eddie W. King, son of James W. and Vickie L. King of Romulus, has finished his basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

He is a 1990 graduate of Romulus Senior High School.

Support seminars slated today

Three positive support seminars will be presented to students, teachers and parents today at Merriman School.

The seminars will be offered by Bertie Synowiec, a national speaker on self-esteem and co-dependency issues.

She also is a teacher, author and mother of five children.

The student seminar is entitled Believe You Can and You Can and seeks to help students see their own value and recognize their ability to influence others in a positive way.

The evening seminar for parents and students Positive Parenting Through Positive Communication will begin at 7 p.m. and continue until 8:30 p.m.

College aid forum planned

A student financial aid forum sponsored by Congressman William D. Ford is planned at 7 p.m. on Sept. 28 at Romulus Senior High School.

The session is open to all students in western Wayne County and will include information on the new Higher Education Act that goes into effect on July 1, 1993.

Financial aid officers from the colleges and universities in Ford's district will be on hand to provide information and advice on how students and their parents can use the new higher education provisions for college or job training.

Athletic complex dedication planned

Dedication plans are currently being finalized for the $5.8 million Romulus Senior High School athletic complex.

School Board member Howard Kesner, chairman of the dedication committee, said the construction work is expected to be completed by Oct. 16, except for the installation of bleachers.

The bleachers will be added early in November, he said. The public will be invited to view the new gym and athletic center Nov. 21. Elected officials will get a preview of the site the day before.

With construction plans currently on schedule, Kesner said, the facility will be open in time for various winter sport competitions including basketball, wrestling and volleyball seasons.

"We were lucky no one was seriously injured. It could have been worse and yet the clinic is still open," she explained.

Sata's office was open part time on Thursday and Friday with windows opened and fans blowing the aroma out as best it could, a spokeswoman said.

The office reopened on a regular basis Monday, but closed at 4:45 p.m. so that the clean-up effort could be completed.

Sata's office opened again Tuesday to a normal client load.

300 school staffers thanked

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

More than 300 Romulus school staff members were thanked last Wednesday for their patience and understanding during the current construction and remodeling of school buildings.

The appreciation luncheon at the Radisson Hotel was the first hosted by school administration members in four years. The luncheons were not scheduled during the years the teachers were without a contract which was approved last June.

Dr. William Bedell, school superintendent, also outlined a presentation on the Romulus technology program that he has given to school administrators in Florida and other locations around the nation.

Bedell, who is starting his 13th year as superintendent, credited the local educators with helping his administration successfully launch a new direction for teaching in Romulus.

He explained that the school board in recent years realized that a new format was needed since 40 percent of the district ninth-graders were failing math tests and 30 percent were transient students, those that only spend several years within the district.

Despite a wide variety of educational efforts, he said, the district standardized test scores remain extremely low.

Bedell explained the district decided to utilize a foundation of new technology, enhanced by constant on site staff in-service sessions.

As the district heads for the year 2000, he said, the focus will be on educational results, not the process.

"It will include a year-round effort by educators, as we proceed to redefine everyone's role," he concluded.

Following a talk by guest speaker, author William Millikin, Assistant Superintendent Terrel LeCesne also presented awards to those staff members who have served the district for 20-30 years.

The group included:

- 30 years: Nancy Shirley
- 25 years: Lucille Bender, George Bowersox, Russ Hasley, William Babcock, Mike Kernohan and Nettie McDonald.

- 20 years: teachers Katherine Carney, Joan Olszewski, Gaye McGinnis, Lance Knudson, Rosemary Foster, Dr. Jeannette Amthor, Marilyn Wood, Rebecca Oz, Joan Omarzu and Doug Hoffman; para-professionals and teachers aides Agnes Meyer, Gail Blanchard, Phyllis McDiarmid, Irene Scheffer, Toni Dorenzo and Joyce Keith; counselors, Al Wilkerson and Avern Logan and psychologist Sam Olive.

Volunteer mediators sought

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

With public safety costs continually on the rise, volunteers are currently being sought in Romulus to help mediate neighborhood disputes.

The effort is an extension of the highly successful Detroit Neighborhood Reconciliation Center program that began in 1987 and has since handled more than 1,000 disputes.

Program Director Sharon S. Miller said volunteers from age 14 on up to retired persons will soon be trained to serve as mediators in Romulus.

Miller hopes to begin the training sessions here late in October. Volunteers will be asked to undergo 40-hour training periods scheduled two consecutive Fridays and Saturdays.

"We are looking for sensible young people, retired workers and shift employees," she said.

"We want people who can listen twice as good as they talk. That is why in the training sessions we tell volunteers God gave you two ears, but only one mouth," she said.

The volunteer mediators are to be facilitators, not judges. They are to seek to have the disputing parties reach compromises on neighborhood noise issues, boundary disputes or consumer complaints.

Interested parties are urged to call Miller's office at 841-0120 and leave a message they wish to be considered for mediator training.

The program cuts the need for uniformed policemen to return to neighborhood disputes time and time again and also eliminates the call for courtroom time, Miller said.

"A trained, neutral person helps others to discuss their differences and find solutions which satisfy their common needs," she continued.

Individuals in dispute meet at a local neutral site and the mediator helps them to proceed in solving the problem by focusing on their needs, rather than placing blame on either party, she said.

Miller said her staff follows up later with telephone calls to make sure the agreement is holding up and to offer additional aid if needed.

The voluntary mediation program is informal and confidential, Miller said, and is involved in disputes between neighbors, family members, customers and merchants, landlords and tenants, etc.

Cases that are not permitted in the program are those that involve serious crimes, drug-related unlawful behavior or where mental illness or substance abuse is one of the elements in the effort to solve the matter.

The actual cost of conducting such community mediation is about $50 per hour, Miller said. "But since our mediators volunteer their time and we receive donations from several sources,

Peacock owner hunt continuing

By AL POST
ANP Staff Writer

The hunt goes on for the owner of a beautiful white peacock.

Kathy Wood of Romulus reported a very rare large white female peacock landed on her roof top on Sept. 14 and has refused to leave.

"I've got eight children, so everything in town seems to land here at one time or another," she joked, "but usually they leave. This peacock is beautiful and obviously belongs to someone. All we are trying to do is find the rightful owner."

Wood said she has called the Detroit Zoo, the local police, animal control, etc. but has gotten no leads.

"I've been urged to feed it corn and bread," she said, "so my son, David, climbed the ladder to feed her for several days."

Since the huge bird took up residence on her roof, Wood said, neighbors and passers by have been stopping by to snap photos.

The bird survived the tremendous lightning storms a week ago, but Wood decided for its own protection they would place the peacock in their family coop.

Her son climbed a ladder about 10 p.m. last Thursday, took the peacock from its nesting spot and handed it to his mother. She placed it in the safety of the coop, along with a healthy supply of water and corn.

If someone owns or knows who owns the peacock, Wood has requested they to contact the Romulus police and leave a message for her.

Teachers

Millikin outlined how he was able to turn his life of rage against society into a positive force for troubled youth "because someone first took time to show he cared for me and others like me."

It was from that display of caring, Millikin said, that he and his late partner dedicated the rest of their lives to helping troubled children on the street.

After watching many deaths, failures and finally some young successes, Millikin said he and his partner "asked ourselves, how can we tell kids we love them - when they live on rooftops."

Millikin said he quickly learned he had a flair for public speaking, so "we decided to open a school in Harlem, N.Y. one of the poorest ghettos in the nation in the early 1960s."

The school was named "Liberation School," he explained, "which proved a hit with the disadvantaged youth, but gave us little financial clout with potential benefactors."

"Once we added academy to the school's title, financial backing increased dramatically," Millikin said.

one of the two workers home that day. We also began using a deodorizer that helped to alleviate the problem somewhat," Spray said.

"It's incredible if this is being done by anti-abortion people," Spray said. "It is also a shame if these actions are being taken by persons, who claim they are trying to save lives - while in effect they are hurting others and attempting to hurt me because they disagree with our efforts. It is totally mind-boggling," Spray said.

The clinic has been at the same Romulus site for 13 years, Spray said, and has been the victim of few incidents in the past.

A spokeswoman for the National Abortion Federation in the Washington D.C. area said such "smelly attacks" on abortion clinics and women's counseling centers across the nation began early this year.

Class teaches safety, skills to young hunters

Youngsters in Romulus, Huron Township and the Belleville Area can learn about hunting safety and gain knowledge and skills in a class sponsored by the Huron Valley Conservation Association (HVCA).

"We've set the limit at 70 students, 12 years of age or older. We encourage youngsters to register quickly to ensure a place in the class," said Max Barber, a HVCA member and organizer of the project. "We are also encouraging parents to come to the classes with their kids."

Instructing the youths on hunting safety, ethics, wildlife identification and management and first aid as well as firearms and bowhunting will be Richard Kiessel, Verdell Bailly, Billy Manning and Barber, all donating their time through the HVCA. Instructions also will be provided by HVCA members Dennis King and George Watts.

"Our goal is to have the youngsters in our class become knowledgeable, skillful and responsible hunters," said Kiessel, noting that hunting safety classes are mandatory for young hunters.

The classes are slated at South Middle School, 45201 Owen St., Belleville, from 6 to 8 p.m. on Tuesdays from Sept. 29 through Oct. 27. Registrations may be made by calling the school office at 697-8711 between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Macrame classes

Ruth Carter, a volunteer instructor at the Romulus Senior Citizen Center, displays the art of macrame chair making. When finished the macrame portion of the chair reportedly would be strong enough to outlast the metal portions. Watching Carter are Sylvia Dubisky, Velma Sumner, Pearl Bower, Clara Drogs and Myra Brower. Various craft classes are scheduled every Thursday morning at the senior center. ANP photo by Ken Garner

Crop walkers seek to halt world hunger

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

For the 10th year, churches in Belleville and Romulus are uniting in a Crop Walk to collect donations to alleviate world hunger.

"This is the only ecumenical service project that the area churches participate in. If there is only one, I'm glad it is something so fundamental as feeding the hungry," said the Rev. John Hagan, project coordinator. "It lifts everyone - walkers, pledgers, whole congregations - to set aside one afternoon a year and say with our feet, 'we won't allow hunger in the world if we can help it.'"

Father Hagan, of Trinity Episcopal Church, has coordinated the local program for the past four years.

At 1 p.m. Oct. 4, an estimated 225 walkers from Community United Methodist Church and St. Aloysius Roman Catholic Church, both of Romulus, Trinity Episcopal Church, Faith United Methodist Church, United Methodist Church, United Presbyterian Church and St. Anthony's Catholic Church, of Belleville, will walk 10 kilometers. The group will meet at Community church and walk west on Huron River Drive to Main Street in Belleville and then north to Trinity on Belleville Road.

Each walker will obtain pledges for each kilometer walked and the funds will be sent to CROP/Church World Services. One-fourth of the contributions are earmarked for local use. In 1991, 186 walkers from seven area churches collected $12,000 in the Crop Walk. Checks for more than $3,000 were distributed to the Belleville Emergency Food Closet, Wayne Metro Soup Kitchen, St. Vincent de Paul (St. Anthony's) and Helping Hand of Romulus.

Many area businesses contribute to the walk and place signs in their windows reading, "Proud sponsors of the Belleville-Romulus Crop Walk," according to Father Hagan.

"Traditionally, Michigan has led the nation with more than 120 Crop Walks and blanket appeals and more than $1.6 million dollars collected in 1991," the area coordinator said. "Those interested in walking on Oct. 4 or pledging to those who do, may call Trinity Episcopal Church from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. weekdays at 699-3361."

Spirits soar as museum celebrates anniversary

One of the attractions at the Yankee Air Force event was the 1,400 engine which was used to keep planes in the air prior to advanced technology today. The engine is, however, still operable.

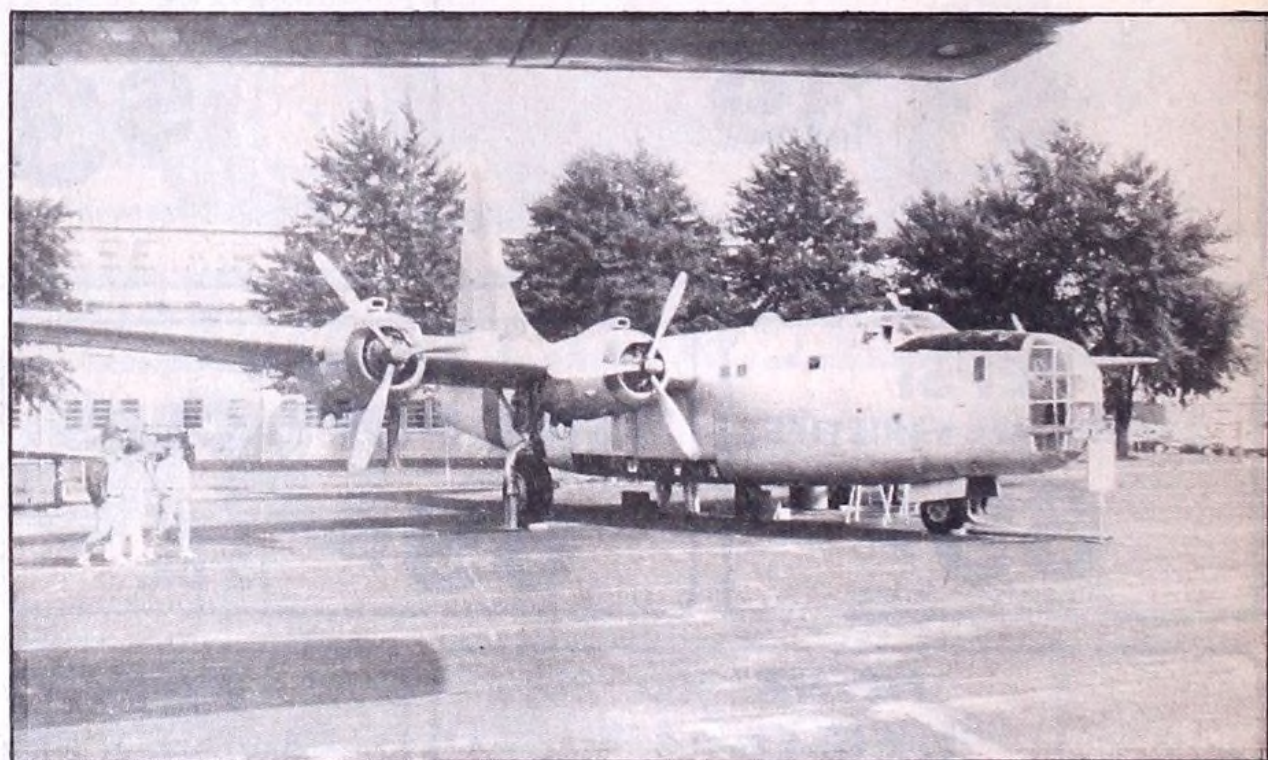

Frank Sundquist of Canton Township offers his son, Karl, a little airborne assistance in getting a look at the interior of one of the planes which drew the crowds to the Yankee Air Force Museum open house.

Ralph Gilpin of Belleville donned some authentic WW I attire to visit the planes on exhibit at the open house of the Yankee Air Force.

Area plane enthusiasts flocked to the open house at the Yankee Air Museum last week to get a look at the real stars of the show, the planes which were on display.

Never too young to be fascinated by flying, John Deikis and sons, Luke and Jeff Deikis took a close up look at some of the air-borne armament on display.

Belleville residents Clyde T. Smith, left, Beatrice Hart, Don Horner and Linda Fairchild took their time examining the Yakee Warrior, one of the planes on exhibit at the museum.

Yankee Air Force members Jan Snider, left, JoAnn Lingefelter and Gerald A. Jattsan kept busy serving refreshments to the crowd during the open house.

Visitors streamed through the Yankee Air Force Museum to view the displays of vintage aircrafts and artifacts during the 11th annual Founder's Day celebration on Sunday.

Drawn to the exhibit were ex-servicemen, aviation enthusiasts, history buffs and their families, according to YAF officials, who noted that an open house is slated annually to introduce visitors to the history of the Willow Run Airport.

"The purpose of the YAF Museum is to bring alive the rich history of the airfield which was built in 1941 to serve the B-24 bomber plant," said Beverly Dallape, public relations chairperson. "The museum is pursuing the original goal to restore one of the 8,600 B-24 bombers that were built at the Ford Motor Co. manufacturing plant at Willow Run."

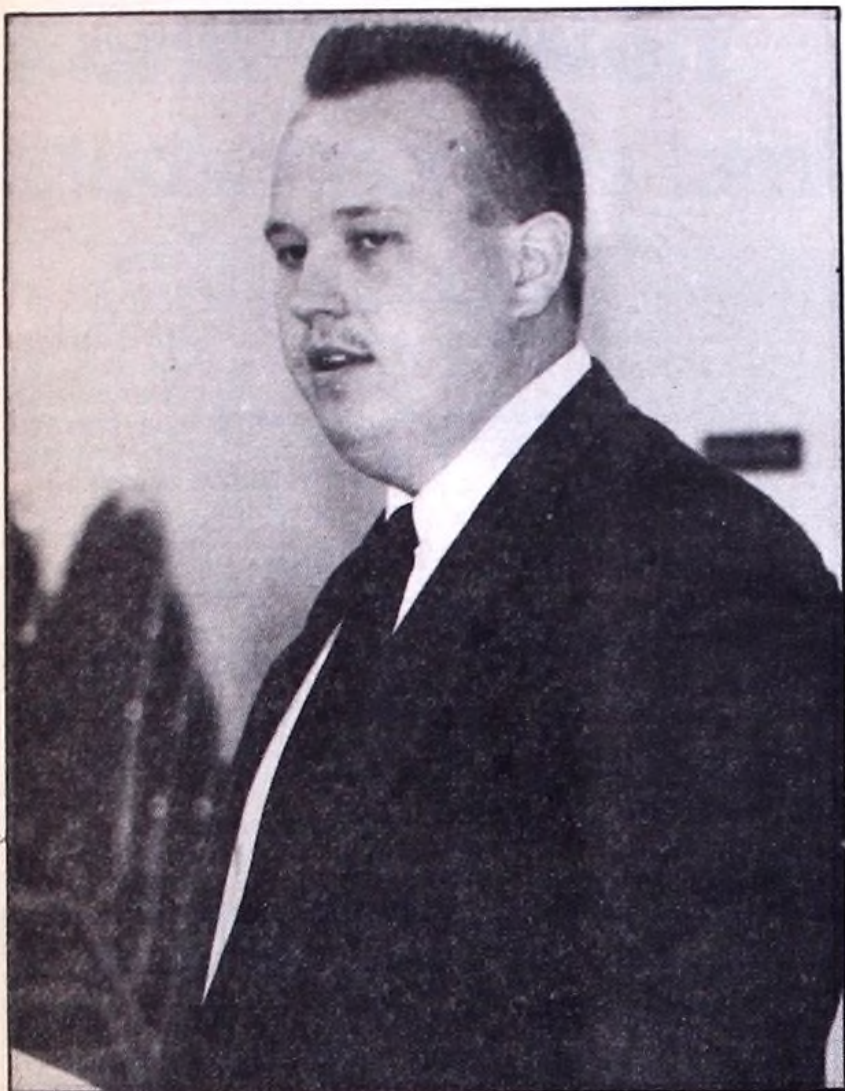

In addition to the giant B-52 eight-engine jet bomber which is displayed outside the vintage hanger, the YAF Museum displays a flying fortress, a medium bomber, helicopters, Korean-era jet fighters, interceptors and trainers plus aviation artifacts.

The museum exhibit rooms feature items from World War I, the Korean Conflict, the Vietnam War, women in aviation and military equipment. The facility also features an aviation gift shop, library and resource center. Tours are available on request by calling 483-4030.

Closed Mondays, the museum is open Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Sundays from noon to 4 p.m.

Willow Run Airport is located south of Ecorse Road and north of Interstate-94 on Beck Road.

Chamber of commerce members hear marketing methods

What's the best way to market your business? Have the right target audience.

That's just one of the messages Mark Morton, president of Morton Marketing Group (MMG) in Farmington, relayed to the Wayne Chamber of Commerce group last week.

MMG officials provide traditional marketing and communication services including consulting, creative development and advertising formulation and management.

Morton outlined strategies to promote businesses, explained the process of distributing a product and analyzed the ways to measure success.

"It's hard to say how to market all of the kinds of businesses represented here today, but I can talk about the marketing strategies which can be used by all of your businesses," Morton said. "When you talk about marketing strategies, you're talking about the target market selection and the marketing mix development."

"Our job as marketers is to develop a target market. The market mix includes the product, price, promotion and distribution."

Morton outlined the four aspects of promotional mix which includes advertising, personal selling, promotion and publicity.

"Publicity is something that is free, a message in any medium," Morton said. "The problem with publicity is sometimes it is uncontrolled. If it's paid for, it's controlled."

Personal selling involves attracting individuals to the area.

"If ads bring people to the store, you're doing personal selling," Morton said. "Advertising is something we do control. Some avenues of advertising can be very expensive."

It's important to be on target with marketing a product, according to Morton.

"If it isn't on target, for example advertising men's shoes in a women's section, then it's not going to work."

"You have to select a target and match the demographics to the media."

In order to be effective with marketing a product, businesses must hear their message, according to Morton.

"People who advertise write messages but don't hear them," Morton said. "A lot of times what you say is not what people hear. You have to match your target."

Morton also stressed the importance for businesses to find a unique selling point.

"Different is good," Morton said. "Look at Domino's for example. Domino's offers a pizza in 30 minutes or less or you get $3 off. It used to be free if it wasn't delivered in 30 minutes. Either way, they are different from their competitors."

GENERAL CINEMA'S CANTON 6 PRESIDENTIAL STRAW VOTE 1992

In September, General Cinema Corp. began conducting the 7th edition of their award winning Straw Vote promotion.

The Straw Vote is conducted by concession attendants, who give out drinking straws tied to the purchaser's party preference in the upcoming Presidential election. Though intended for fun, GCC's straw vote has successfully predicted the last six Presidents and except where an independent candidate significantly affected the final numbers, GCC's results have been within a few percentage points of the official final tally.

As of Sept. 17, 1992, 367,915 people have cast their Straw Vote.

Wayne retains accounting, consulting firm

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Wayne council members recently agreed to retain the accounting and consulting services of Plante and Moran for various 1992-93 city projects.

Plante and Moran officials have already worked with the city administration for two years, according to Bill Richards, assistant to the city manager.

"Until now, Plante and Moran has performed all of these services on a pre-determined, project-by-project basis," Richards said. "As a result of their proven track record based on the referenced projects and due to our continuing need for consulting services, especially for the implementation of years two through five of the MIS (information system plan) Five Year Master plan, we recommend that our relationship be adapted to enable the city to obtain consulting services in a more flexible and responsive manner."

Previous Plante and Moran contracts with the city included:

- MIS Phase One ($15,000)-Development of Information System plan which included: organizational assessment, department needs/user, interviews, prioritize applications and activities, prepare draft and final MIS five-year master plan.

- MIS Phase Two ($17,500)-Bid specification development and coordination for year one implementation of the five-year master plan which included: develop bid specifications, recommend potential vendors, analyze proposals, assist selection of products, services and vendors.

- Public Safety/Dispatch Study ($6,000)-Review automated records management system regarding application, utilization and implementation.

"We estimate Plante and Moran services for 1992-93 (year two implementation) to be approximately 85-100 work hours or $8,000 to $9,500," Richards said. "The city will be billed monthly for services performed in the prior month. Plante and Moran understands this agreement can be terminated at any time."

Advantages for retaining Plante and Moran services for Wayne, according to city officials, include: having the expertise of knowledgeable information system professionals (without hiring additional permanent staff), independent consultants can be more persuasive and can "play hardball" with vendors, without damaging the ongoing relationships with vendors and continuity of implementing continuing projects such as major upgrades to the public safety and court hardware and software installations in other departments.

When my routine pregnancy suddenly wasn't...

I was glad I'd chosen Hutzel. From the beginning, my pregnancy was described as "normal." So when I wanted a private room—one where labor, delivery, and recovery could all take place—my doctor had no objections. But if something went wrong,

I wanted to know my baby and I would also have the most knowledgeable specialists and the latest medical technology nearby. So I chose The Detroit Medical Center's Hutzel Hospital.

To my surprise, Hutzel's private LDRP (Labor, Delivery, Recovery, Post-Partum) rooms were among the most spacious and beautiful I'd seen. I was glad I could be in one—and that I'd chosen Hutzel. Because at the last minute, my baby developed complications and a team of Hutzel specialists was right there to provide the care we both needed.

Like a lot of other women, I've learned there's no such thing as a "routine" pregnancy. Thank goodness there's Hutzel Hospital.

Fond farewell

Student donates family violin

By PATRICIA BROWN
ANP News Editor

Before transferring from the Wayne-Westland school district to Livonia, John Kowaleski decided he would leave something behind.

Kowaleski donated a violin owned by his grandfather to Titus Elementary School in Westland. His grandfather, Henry J. Kowaleski, who died in March, purchased the violin more than 55 years ago.

The idea for the donation came from John's mother, Victoria Kowaleski who asked John if he would like to donate the violin.

"Mrs. Kowaleski wanted to do something for the school because she has always been really pleased with the education her children received," said Titus Elementary School Principal Celestine Sanders. "It was really a special gift."

The seventh-grade student also wanted to thank the school and was more than happy to donate the violin.

"I was talking to my mother and she said, 'John we have this violin that used to be your grandfather's, would you like to donate it to Titus school?'" John said. "I told her yes I would and from that day on, I have been waiting for this moment."

On behalf of the school district, school board member Fred Warmbier accepted the violin at a school board meeting last Monday evening.

"The Kowaleski family is moving from the Wayne-Westland area and gave the violin as a thank you gift to Titus for the wonderful years they have spent here," said Superintendent of Schools Dr. Larry Thomas.

The violin was originally purchased in Hamtramck where it was made in 1915, according to the Kowaleski family.

John's mother described the donation as a way of repaying the school for all that her children have received throughout the years.

"I must say especially where the Wayne-Westland schools are involved, they have really worked with us," Kowaleski said. "Everybody we have come in contact with in the Wayne-Westland school district has been very helpful and kind."

John, who was a student in the gifted program at Titus Elementary School, is currently attending classes in the Livonia school district and is still in the gifted program, according to Sanders.

School board president

Leonard Posey conveyed his appreciation for the gift.

"That's a very special gift you have donated," Posey said. "This is a gift that is so valuable to your family," Posey said.

Board member Francis "Bud" Winter explained that the appreciation the Kowaleski family experienced is common to many of the families throughout the school district.

"Your comments certainly represent the feelings in our community," Winter said. "You are leaving a program that has done so much for children, but that's been the attitude in this school district for years and years and years."

"We tend to hear more of the negative things that happen than the positive," Winter said.

Celestine Sanders accepts the token of appreciation donated to Titus Elementary School by John and Karlos Kowaleski. The violin was the property of the students' grandfather and was given to the school as a remembrance by the boys who transferred to Livonia schools recently. ANP photo by Larry DiVizio

Residents warned of 'home repair' scam

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

They tell you they are at your home to fix an appliance or mend a plumbing pipe, but once inside, these individuals rob the homeowner of money and various articles.

The Wayne Police Department is encouraging residents in Wayne to check identifications of individuals who pretend to be professional plumbers or electricians.

Recently officers arrested and charged Tony Costa, 21, Garden City resident and Tony Mitch, 24, a Westland resident, with larceny over $100, according to Wayne police Lt. Mel Drews. The arrests followed an incident which occurred at 2:45 p.m. Sept. 16 at the Tae Keuk Village.

"The two suspects said they were there to check the man's pipes," Drews said. "They pretended to be plumbers. When one went to pretend to look at the pipes, the other one took money from his wallet."

Wayne police officer Brian Wojcik apprehended Costa and Mitch while they were walking on foot away from Tae Keuk. Both were arraigned in the 18th District Court and a $10,000 bond was set.

A Sept. 30 examination has been scheduled for Costa and Mitch before 29th District Court Judge Carolyn Archbold.

If Costa and Mitch are found guilty, they could receive up to five years in prison and/or a $2,500 fine for the larceny offense, according to Drews.

"We just want residents to take more precautions and check identifications of individuals to make sure they are who they say they are," Drews said.

Drews requested that individuals with information regarding the incident phone the police department at 721-1414.

Tom Tucker

By MARGO DEWEY
ANP Feature Editor

Michigan attracts major motion picture directors

High tech facilities, professional crews and a slew of production houses represent just a handful of the filming technology offered in Michigan which has drawn big time movie producers/directors including Danny Devito (Hoffa) and Mike Binder (Crossing the Bridge).

Michigan is becoming acknowledged by the film industry as 'the' place to produce movies. This recognition is long overdue, according to Tom Tucker, president of Tempest Entertainment Inc. in Southfield, a business designed to develop, finance and produce feature-length motion pictures in this state.

"I think we've consistently had the facilities and technology through the 1980s," Tucker said. "Now in the 1990s, Detroit is just being rediscovered. Part of it has to do with the strike in New York two years ago."

"Hollywood producers said 'OK, we can't shoot in New York so where can we shoot?' They decided on Detroit, Pittsburgh, Chicago. They did it because they were forced to do it. New York has been suffering ever since."

Once producers/directors found other states in which to film, they discovered all the talent and facilities provided in the U.S. including Michigan.

"In 1982, my senior year in high school, I went to a Detroit seminar and we talked about how Detroit was a film city, and how there was more film shot in Detroit than anywhere else, and that was in the 1980s," Tucker said.

"I think we have excellent facilities now, top notch. There are probably four or five post production houses that are equivalent to anything in the country."

Tucker didn't begin his career with a desire to be in film. He dreamt of being a writer.

"My aunt, who was my fifth grade teacher, told me I was going to be a writer," Tucker said. "I stuck with writing ever since fifth grade until I got to college."

"Then I decided if you want to be able to tell stories in the future, the way to do that is through visual media."

Tucker graduated from the University of Michigan where he studied film, communication and history.

"Film, history and coffee are my three great loves," Tucker said. "When I was there I met a good friend of mine Shannon Bertritt who was producing a short film Forever My Dog directed by Ronald Senkowski."

"That was 1988. I started as a production assistant on that film and then ended up as assistant director by the end of the shoot."

After Forever My Dog was completed, Senkowski started to finance his own feature Let's Kill All The Lawyers. Tucker joined Senkowski with the production.

"He and I made a good team," Tucker said. "I was his assistant. I was one of the associate producers. That was filmed in the summer and fall of 1990 in Michigan. It has taken awhile, but it has been edited and is ready to go."

Let's Kill All The Lawyers was produced by Shannon Hamad and was presented to the Independent Feature Film Market in New York.

"We're trying to get a distributor for it now, so it should be shown at a theater near you soon," Tucker said.

Tucker was also involved with the Hoffa movie where he worked in the production office.

"I was working with the brains of the operation," Tucker said. "It was really fun to work with such a huge production crew."

What will it take to make Michigan a Hollywood two? "You don't see as many films getting financed out of Michigan," Tucker said. "The cooperation from the state film office has been excellent as well as Nancy Clervi from the Michigan Film and Video Production Industry Council (MIPIC) has just been incredible."

"Before Michigan really becomes a film capitol or a film state, you're going to need a big group to finance films."

Tucker believes businesses in this state will support movie making in Michigan.

"We're trying to get this cooperative effort going between Tempest, my company, and Lighten Up Films, owned by Shannon Hamad and a few other local producers to try and get financing in Michigan," Tucker said. "People don't realize this is a huge business."

"Last year $4.5 billion dollars was made at the box office and $3.8 billion in home video sales in 1991. So it's a question of convincing Detroit investors, capitalists and entrepreneurs that yes, it's risky, but the rewards are incredible."

Tucker said the key to successfully producing a box-office hit is to find out what the risks are and to limit them.

"The statistics are one in five films makes money," Tucker said. "I think it's very key to use known talent, actors. I think the local productions have lagged because they haven't gone after Hollywood talent because it's more expensive."

"People, however, want to see films if they recognize the actors."

Tempest officials are now financing a film entitled Swerve, a psychological thriller, according to Tucker.

"We were going to shoot in October, but we have pushed it back to May because we're not going to be fully financed to mid-winter," Tucker said. "It's written by Michael R. Gorski. We're going to business professionals, entrepreneurs to finance the film."

Several muscle cars of the late 1960s and early 1970s will be featured in Swerve including an early model GTO, Chevelle, Riviera and Mustang.

In the near future, Tucker believes Michigan will be the major hub for filmmaking.

Tucker said he recently talked with the production accountant from Hoffa who praised the facilities in Detroit.

"He said he would recommend Detroit over any city because everything they needed was here," Tucker said. "They were on budget and spent an extra day shooting they didn't expect."

"It's like we're this little jewel that no one knows about."

Veterans' day

Ceremony honors local veterans

Westland city officials, state officials and a representative for United States Congressman William D. Ford appeared at a brief ceremony at the Vietnam Veterans' Memorial at Westland City Hall Friday evening to recognize those who fought and died or who remain missing.

State Rep. Justine Barns told the crowd that it is important to remember those who fought in the war and who never came home to their family and friends.

Although bad weather delayed Ford's plane, he still sent a statement regarding those veterans who remain missing from the Vietnam War.

Ford emphasized that families of those who were either prisoners of war or listed as missing in action have not received the recognition they deserve in all of these years since the war ended in the early 70s.

"It is fit and proper that we dedicate this day, Sept. 18 to America's POWs and MIAs," Ford said.

More than 2,300 Americans remain unaccounted for from the Vietnam War, Ford said.

Not only did his statements reflect how he felt as a member of Congress, Ford experienced the worries of a father whose son served in the military during the Vietnam War.

"As a father whose son served in the military during the Vietnam War and as a member of Congress during that war, I feel a particular bond with the men who remain unaccounted for from that war," Ford said. "Bill junior, thankfully completed his term in the Army without event, I nevertheless worried over his welfare and safety throughout his service."

Ford has served as a member of Congress since 1965.

At that time he had to vote on legislation declaring war. "These votes were probably the most difficult of my career," Ford said. "My greatest hope was that the Americans our government sent to Vietnam would go there, do their job and safely return home to their friends and families."

Before the war ended 58,000 men and women died, according to the congressman.

"To this day, we still do not know what happened to another 2,300," Ford said. "While nearly 20 years have passed since our nation's formal involvement in the war ended, the legacy of the dead and missing means that our involvement there will never end."

"We left a part of ourselves in the faraway nation," Ford said. "We left a part we will never be able to fully retrieve."

Ford was asked to speak at the ceremony by members of the Westland

Chapter of the Vietnam Veterans of America (VVA).

During the ceremony, Ford's representatives presented members of the VVA with a Congressional Record statement which honored them for their efforts.

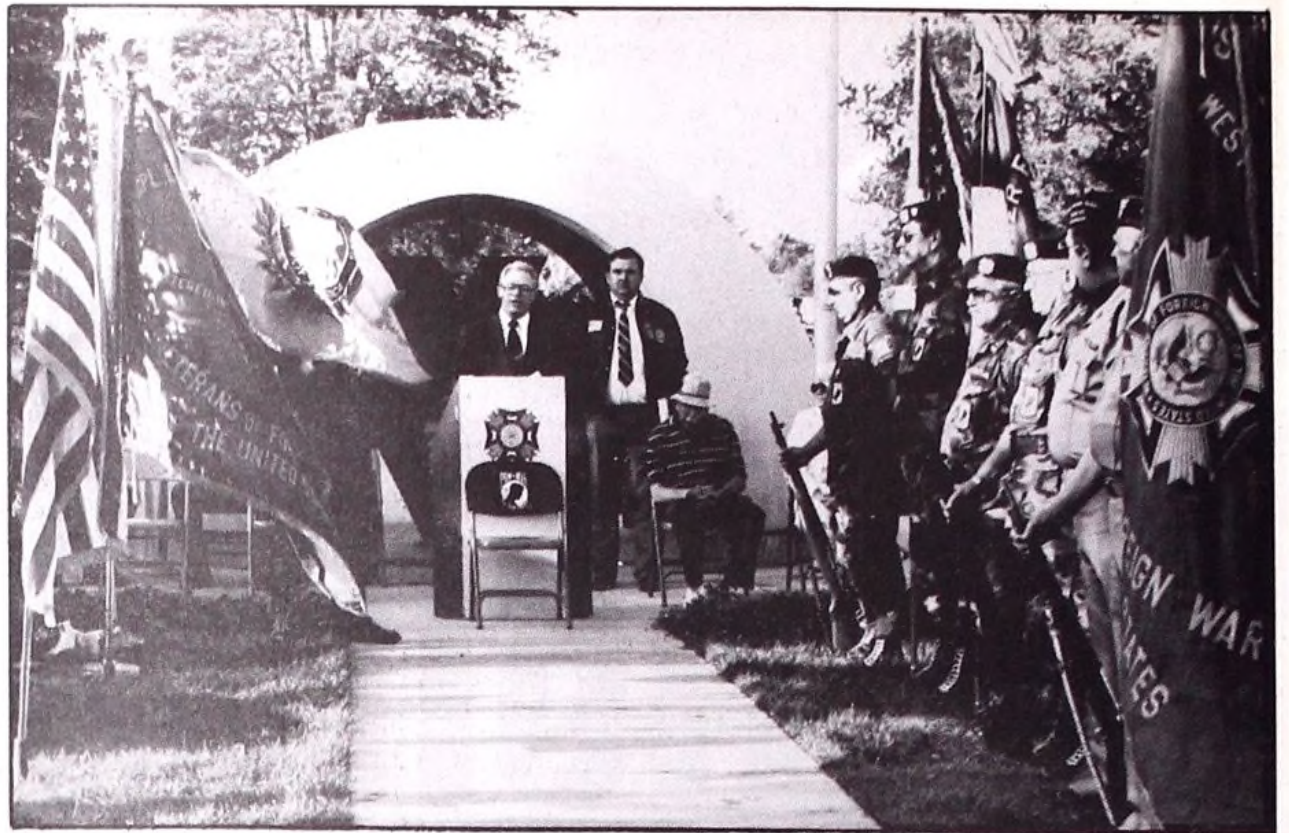

"The families of our missing men carry the heaviest burden of all those families who suffered the loss of a loved one in the war—the burden of never knowing what became of their son, husband or father," Ford said.

In a prepared statement read by his representative, the congressman thanked the members of the VVA for allowing him to participate in their ceremony. He also thanked them for keeping the memory of those missing Americans alive.

He also pledged to continue his efforts to remind Americans of those who remain missing in all wars involving the United States.

"Together let us continue to educate all Americans as to the thousands of Americans who remain missing from all wars," Ford said.

Westland Mayor Robert Thomas speaks to the audience at the ceremony honoring Vietnam veteran's last week. A representative from Congressman William Ford's office spoke on his behalf and veteran Sam Lawson of VFW Post 3323 who had suffered a heart attack but checked himself out of the hospital spoke at the moving tribute to servicemen. Tigers' fans lament lost season, but hope for better future

Belleville City Editor

Before the first pitch was tossed out on opening day, Tiger fans had high hopes for a big finish at the end of the season.

With eight games left after the Tigers' encounter with the Yankees today, the Detroit team is stuck in the midway spot. Detroit, Cleveland and New York are far from the division-leading Toronto Blue Jays, which the Tigers will play on Oct. 2, 3 and 4. The Milwaukee Braves and Baltimore Orioles trail slightly behind the Blue Jays and Boston lingers in the cellar, a spot from which the Tigers recently emerged.

Prior to opening day, predictions from local fans ranged from first- to fifth place, but as the season closes fans seem to be satisfied if their team stay out of the cellar.

Last April, Nick Demetriou of Wayne predicted a first-place finish for the Tigers "if their pitching comes through," and Inkster resident George Williams also looked for the Tigers to be tops in their division. Canton Township resident Jim Rudorffer looked for the Tigers to finish in second place, behind Toronto.

Keith DeMolay of Westland predicted a fourth-place finish, while Canton Township resident Dan Calabrese speculated that the Tigers would finish fifth. Sgt. Don Gotham of the Wayne Police Department predicted a third-place finish for the Tigers, while Belleville business owner Chesley Odom optimistically called for a first-place finish for the Tigers.

Demetriou picked the Atlanta Braves as the probable winner of the 1992 World Series.

"Obviously, the Tigers' pitching didn't come through and their hitting soured in the second half of the season. I expect them to end up second from the bottom with Boston last," Demetriou said. "I think I'm on target with my Atlanta prediction."

Demetriou predicted a lot of changes in the 1993 baseball season for the Tigers.

"They'll be doing a lot of wheeling and dealing. They need some good pitchers," Demetriou said. "The fans got turned off by all the infighting. (Tom) Monaghan wasn't loyal to the fans, and he didn't run the team right. (Mike) Ilitch is a Detroit man. He wants the Tigers to do good, and they will."

Chesley Odom of Belleville, a longtime Tiger fan, looks back with sorrow at the past season.

"It's been a sad year for the whole organization. Now, Ilitch is making massive changes. A huge number of people were let go," Odom said. "Ilitch needs to start a real strong marketing program to improve the image and morale of the Tigers and the fans."

Odom said Ilitch must begin a re-building program for the organization as well as boost the enthusiasm of fans.

"Attendance has been terrible. I love to go to the ball park, but attendance has fallen way off," Odom said. "It will take a lot of promotion to bring it back. I hope it can come back soon."

Odom said the Tigers' former owner had "let things get out of hand," by allowing his marketing group to make bad decisions.

"It's too late for this year, but let's wish them well for next season," said Keith Bruder of Belleville.

Bruder believes a good team will have a good following. Therefore, if the Tigers can build a better organization next year, attendance will increase.

"They'll be doing a lot of wheeling and dealing. They need some pitchers."

More Detroit suburban shoppers

The SPRING Newspapers' circulation more than doubles the daily suburban circulation of either The Detroit News or Free Press.

In fact, SPRING's suburban circulation is greater than the two metro dailies' combined.

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more—and spend more.

- ▶ 152,700 more suburban buyers of women's fashions than the daily News (78,600 more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 145,700 more suburban buyers of men's fashions than The News (64,500 more than the Free Press).
- ▶ 115,900 (and 63,600) more suburban buyers of children's clothing.
- ▶ 177,100 (and 80,000) more suburban shoppers at malls.

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more. Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more?

To get all the facts, call your SPRING representative.

THANKS TO YOUR DONATION, CHARLIE LIVES IN A HOUSE, NOT A HOME.

Too often, when the elderly can't care for themselves anymore, they end up in a home. Well, you're helping to change that.

Your donation to the United Way helps support organizations like CareGivers, which provide in-home care and other supportive services for 12,200 elderly people in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

The United Way supports 145 agencies. Nearly 90 cents of every dollar you contribute goes directly to work, since only 10.4 cents goes towards campaign and administrative costs. Your contributions help the disabled, the abused and the homeless, right here. For Charlie and other elderly people, please give to the United Way. And help keep them in a house, not a home.

STILL THE BEST WAY TO SHOW YOU CARE.

Fall colors brighten Upper Peninsula

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
Belleville City Editor

Although weather is unseasonably warm this week in western Wayne County, fall is making an appearance in the Upper Peninsula.

There has been speculation about an early color season because of a cooler summer, but, according to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR), trees that have already turned color have done so because they are "stressed," either injured or diseased. Colors should be about normal and above average vibrancy this season, according to DNR officials.

Leaves have begun to turn bright red and gold in the Upper Peninsula, with the peak expected within the next two weeks in the western portion of the area.

The latest report from the Michigan Travel Bureau indicates that there is 30 percent color coverage along County Road 510 in Marquette County.

Tourists who make an early color tour may want to detour to Gobbler's Knob overlooking Big Bay and also travel northwest to visit the Huron Mountains. A hike along the Yellow Dog River to Hills Falls also makes an excellent side trip, according to officials from the MTB.

No color tour of the western

Upper Peninsula is complete without visiting the Lake of the Clouds in the Porcupine Mountains Wilderness State Park. The 20-mile long shoreline panorama includes the Brockway Mountain Drive at the top of the Keweenaw Peninsula.

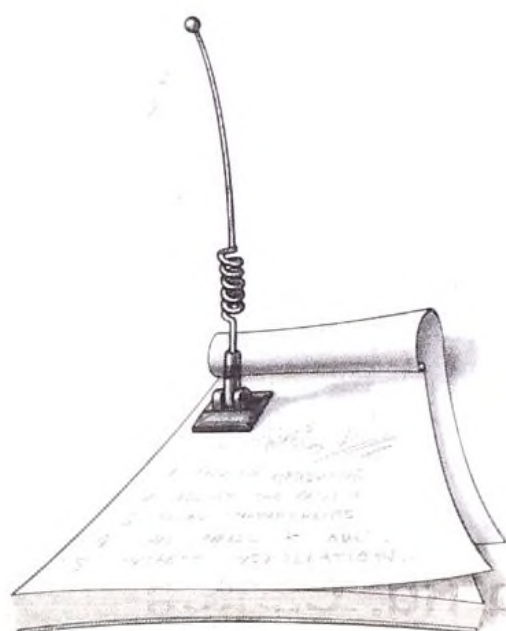

The Porcupines, at 900 feet above sea level, are the highest point between the Rocky and the Allegheny mountains.

Some areas of the Keweenaw Peninsula are reporting as much as 50 percent color this week. The peak of the color season is expected within two weeks, according to reports.

Another scenic tour is along the Black River Harbor Parkway, which stretches 25 miles along the Black River near Bessemer to Lake Superior. The drive passes along five waterfalls and Copper Peak Ski Fly-Hill.

The peak color season for the northern portion of the Lower Peninsula is from late September to mid-October and the peak season in Central Michigan is early- to mid-October. Color changes in the lower portion of the Lower Peninsula are from mid- to late-October.

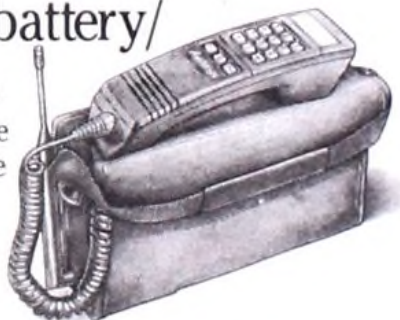

Travelers can call the Michigan Travel Bureau for a copy of the Michigan Fall Secrets Guide at 800-5432-YES or write to the MTB, P.O. Box 30226, Lansing, Mich. 48909.

Showtime: Unbeaten Romulus, state-ranked Adrian clash

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

It's showtime for undefeated Romulus High School.

Coach Dan Henry will take his Eagles to Adrian on Friday, and Adrian happens to be one of the pre-season favorites to win the Class A state football crown. Both teams enter the duel with untarnished 3-0 records.

And, Adrian, a former South Central Conference foe of Romulus, embarrassed the Eagles a year ago 42-7. That loss snapped the four-game winning streak Romulus enjoyed.

Henry and his Eagles haven't forgotten.

"We're going to see how much we have matured over the past year," Henry said, who added that Adrian is loaded with talent.

"They (Adrian) were picked to win it all this year," Henry added. "They have an exceptional team. We must play near-perfect ball in order to beat them."

Henry said that he expects his starting quarterback, Bob Bergeron, to be ready to play. Bergeron was injured in the third quarter against Brooklyn Columbia Central Friday night and was yanked "for precautionary reasons."

"He will be back Friday night," said Henry.

Romulus actually put away Brooklyn in the second quarter when the Eagles exploded for 28 points to grab a 34-0 half-time lead en route to a lopsided 42-0 victory before the home crowd.

The Eagles scored in their first series of plays as running back Phillip Franklin went in from the 15, culminating a 72-yard drive.

Jon Devereaux, who has been flawless, missed his first conversion of the season. He went on to successfully kick four other point-after.

Franklin ignited the Eagles in the second quarter as he finished off a superb punt return by Brian Helka with a 11-yard touchdown run.

Helka bolted 36-yards with the return, reaching the Brooklyn 10 before he was stopped, to set up the second Franklin score of the evening.

the end zone.

Before the end of the initial half, Bergeron teamed up with tight end Joe Kusibab on a 27-yard TD strike. Bergeron's 39-yard toss to split end Rob Thompson set up the TD, delayed by a penalty.

The defense got into the scoring game when linebacker Tyrone Jones recovered a Brooklyn fumble on the enemy 35. Earquhart eventually crossed the goal line from the six with 2:39 left in the third quarter. Devereaux's boot made it a 35-0 game.

Devereaux had a 52-yard punt that was downed on the Brooklyn six which helped the Eagles score their final TD. Brooklyn had a broken play that resulted from a bad pitch from the QB which Steve Banko scooped up and took across the crease from the one.

Earquhart finished the game with 85 yards in 14 attempts, and one TD, while Franklin accounted for 54 yards on eight carries and two touchdowns that increased his TD output to six this season. Helka compiled 79 yards on eight carries and had one TD.

Bergeron, before he was forced to the sidelines with the injury, connected on five of eight tosses for 79 yards and a TD.

Outside linebacker Joe Kusibab and Michael Grube, a tackle, distinguished themselves on defense. Kusibab had two sacks of the QB in his seven tackles for the evening, and Grube finished with three solos and four assists.

Charles Dudonis returned to the lineup for the first time this season and the rugged linebackers carded six tackles. Terrance Hicks sacked the Brooklyn QB for a 10-yard loss that repelled a serious scoring threat.

Rockets remain untouchable

Westland John Glenn remains untouchable on the gridiron.

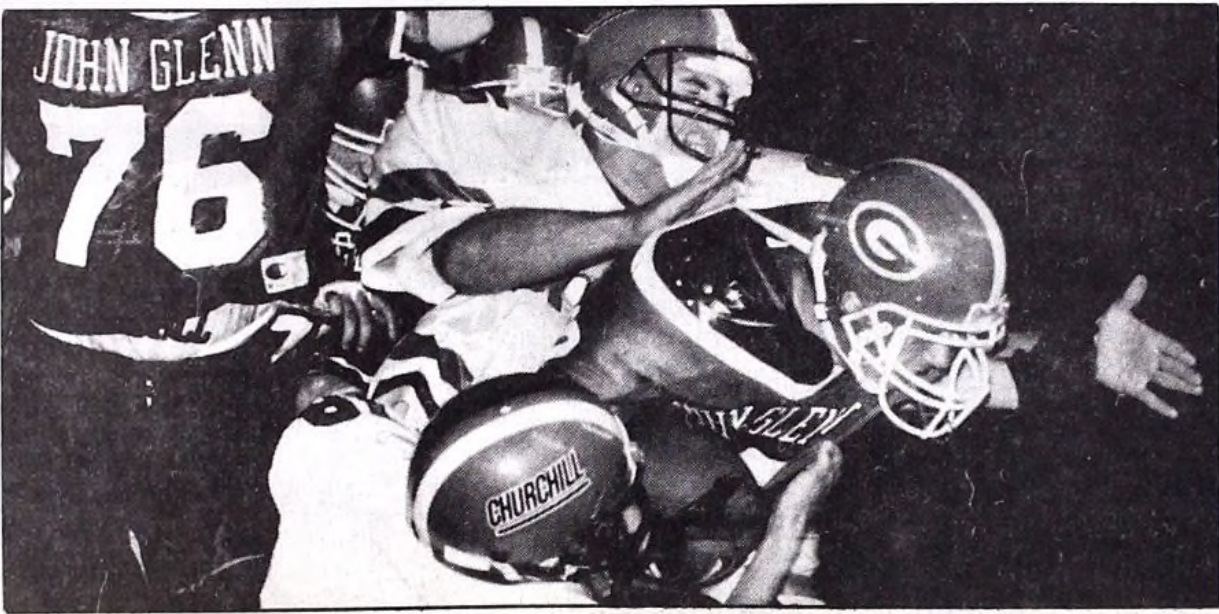

For the third consecutive week, Coach Chuck Gordon and his Rockets have chalked up an easy victory. The latest a 41-0 rout of Western Lakes Division rival, Farmington.

The Rockets erupted for 20 points in the opening quarter, held scoreless the rest of the initial half before they came back and tallied a pair of TDs in the third and wrapped up the victory with a fourth-quarter score.

Gordon was pleased with the victory, but he expressed concern over the erratic play of his team.

"We played sloppy at times, especially in the second quarter," the veteran Rocket coach offered. "The inconsistency is a concern."

Glenn got on the scoreboard early as Joe Paddock capped a long drive with a 1-yard TD run. Then, midway in the same quarter, Bryan Bescoe raced 20-

With three victories safely tucked away, Westland John Glenn will attempt to make it 4-0 at the expense of Livonia Stevenson Friday night on the home turf. However, veteran Glenn coach Chuck Gordon warns that the Spartans' 0-3 record is deceptive, pointing out that his Friday night opponent could easily have been 3-0 on the year. Gordon predicts that Stevenson will pull a major upset before the season is over, and he's hoping that it's not against his team. ANP photo by Larry DiVizio yards for a touchdown and a Brian Morrison 6-yard toss to Bescoe accounted for the final tally in the opening half.

The Westlanders also scored with Ryan Nastal's 10-yarder and running back Tarig Horne came through with a 1-yarder for his inaugural score as a Rocket.

Doug Hammond booted five of the six extra points.

Morrison had little trouble moving the ball against an inexperienced Farmington defense. The Glenn QB mixed up his plays and went to the air 18 times, finding receivers for six of his passes for 84 yards and one TD. Paddock rushed for 101 yards on 14 carries.

Farmington didn't seriously threaten thanks to a Rocket defense, led by linebacker Joe Kalep and Jerome Cosby.

Glenn returns to the home turf at 7:30 p.m. on Friday to host a winless Livonia Stevenson, but Gordon is quick to point out that the Spartans' 0-3 record "is very deceptive."

"They will be the best team we will play to date," Gordon predicted. "They lost three games, but all three were close ones."

"And you can count on them pulling a major upset before this season is over - I'm just hoping it's not this week."

Salem aerial assault jolts Central, 35-14

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Quarterback Rob Kenney turned in a sterling performance to lead Plymouth Salem to a 35-14 football victory over Walled Lake Central in the Western Lakes Division opener for both teams.

Kenney hit on three of his five passes for 42 yards, rushed for 150 yards in seven attempts, scored two touchdowns and passed for a third in the lopsided win. One of Kenney's TDs was a superb 74-yard run.

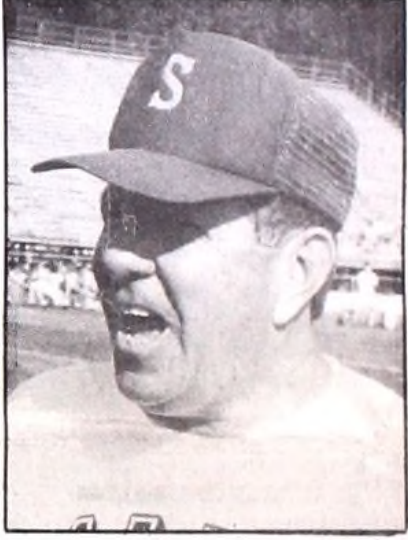

"This definitely was Rob's best performance," said Salem coach Tom Moshimer. "He showed a lot of confidence out there. He was in control all the way in this one."

"In fact, after those seven turnovers a week ago, this team and did a complete turnaround. We didn't have a single turnover against Central."

Midway in the first quarter, Salem got on the scoreboard as Andy Szydlowski scored the first of his two touchdowns of the afternoon. He dashed into the Central end zone from 11 yards out to give the Rocks the lead.

Szydlowski teamed up with Kenney in the second quarter on a 42-yard pass-run play that gave the Rocks their second TD and, when Brandon Walton capped a midfield drive with a 4-yard touchdown run, the Rocks were in control 21-0 and well on their way to their second victory. They took that lead into the locker room at halftime.

The two teams exchanged touchdowns in the third and fourth quarters. Kenney tallied on the 74-yarder early in the third frame and he came back for a 42-yard TD in the final stanza.

Salem ball-carriers enjoyed their best day of the young season as they rushed for a total of 434 net yards. Szydlowski piled up 100 yards on 14 carries and Walton picked up 40 yards on seven attempts.

Leading the defense was Rob Shepley, a middle linebacker who counted three solo tackles and six assists.

Salem has a tough assignment this week. The Rocks will play North Farmington, the defending Lakes Division champs, on the N.F. field at 1 p.m. Saturday. Two exceptional North running backs are reasons for concern, said Moshimer.

"Our offense is going to have to come to play. We can't expect our defense to contain North's explosive offense. We're going to find out a lot about this team this week."

Wayne hangs on to beat Trenton

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Apparently, Wayne Memorial thrives on living dangerously.

How else can you explain the Zebras' 35-27 that wasn't supposed to be close victory over Trenton?

After Wayne built up what appeared to be a comfortable 28-7 lead, coach Chuck Howton's gridders let Trenton off the ropes and the Trojans make a game out of it. The defense managed to hang on to the win - the first of the 1992 campaign for Wayne.

"We almost let it get away from us," said Howton, who takes his troops up against Wyandotte next. "We had them on the ropes but they came back to give us a scare."

Wyandotte also will not be easy for the 1-2 Zebras. The Bruins got a 42-yard field goal from Jim DeLong and came back with a last-play of the game TD to hand Belleville a heartbreaking 17-13 loss last Friday.

"Wyandotte was picked to win our league and nothing that I have seen has changed my mind that they have an exceptional team this year," Howton said.

Wayne looked like it was going to put Trenton away early. In the first quarter, Tim Mate polished off the Zebras' first drive with a 20-yard touchdown pass to Jason Overton. Wayne turned a bad snap from center into a two-point conversion as Jeff Tapp scooped up the errant ball and scored, giving Wayne a quick 8-0 lead.

Midway in the same quarter, Mate teamed up with running back Bruce Calhoun on a 64-yard pass-run play that netted the Zebras' their second TD. Jim McEwen kicked the extra point.

In front 15-0, Wayne added to its total with Calhoun's 1-yard off-tackle TD. Calhoun's score was set up on defensive halfback Charles Monroe's pass interception.

A broken play gave Mate an opportunity to get the Zebras on the scoreboard in the third period. Mate dropped back to pass but couldn't find any receivers and decided to take it in by himself from the 4-yard line.

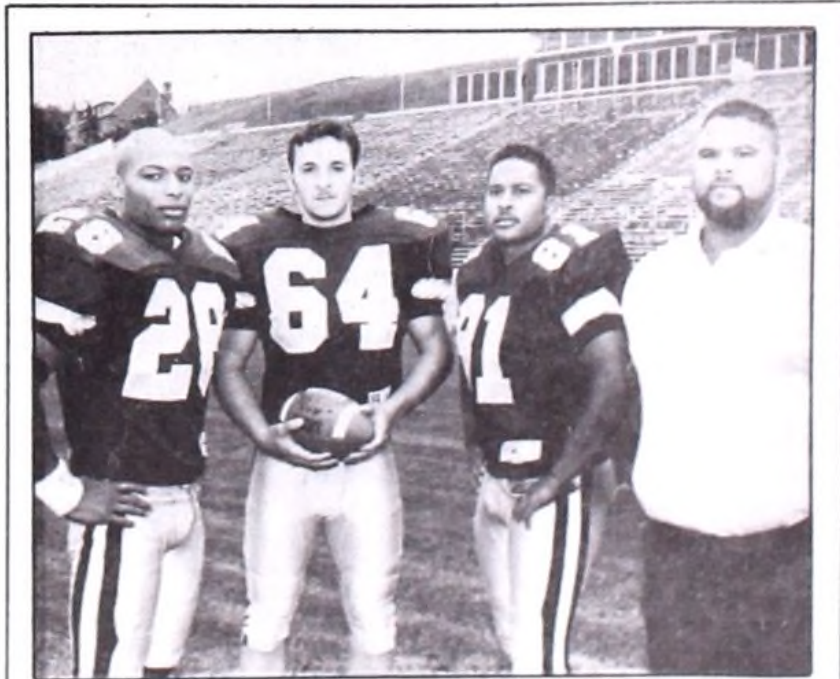

The game almost got away from Wayne in the fourth when, after a Trenton score, the Trojans cashed in on an on-side kick which opened the door to six additional points.

"We almost gave this one away," Howton sighed. "The golden rule is that at no time should you let down against any team."

Calhoun was the leading rusher for the game. He picked up 176 yards on 16 carries and picked up three more TDs - two on rushes and one passing. Mate was five of 10 with his passing game for 100 yards. He also had six rushes for 65 yards.

Howton commended the line for "blocking well for Calhoun". Center Jake Rathburn, guard Derek Reeves and Tony McGill, a guard who doubles as a defensive end, earned high grades for their individual performances. It was also McGill's first start on defense. Monroe, who had an interception, Calhoun and John Ballard - both linebackers - also were exceptional on defense.

Together again

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Seven teams - possibly an eighth - will compete in the 1992 Western Wayne Swimming and Diving championships, hosted by Wayne Memorial High School.

The championships will be decided on Friday and Saturday, with the finals scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

"We have seven teams committed to compete in this year's invitational," said Wayne Memorial swim coach

Randy Ferguson. "The eighth - Westland John Glenn - may come."

"If they do, I would say that Glenn would be the favorite to win the team title. They have an excellent team this year."

The field will consist of girls swimming and diving teams representing Allen Park, Garden City, Livonia Franklin, Redford Township, Thurston, Willow Run, Wyandotte and Wayne Memorial.

Wyandotte, the defending champ, appears to have the front-runners to retain the title. If the Westlanders turn their oaks on the meet look for the Bruins to take it all, according to Ferguson.

The competition will get under way at 4 p.m. on Friday with the preliminaries. The finals are scheduled for Saturday. There is a $2 admission charge.

In the meantime, Wayne launched the 1992 Wolverine "A" Conference season, and the Zebras had none other than pre-season title favorite and defending champ, Trenton, to contend with.

Trenton swept all of the swimming events but lost the diving to Misty Maniez, who surfaced with the gold medal.

"Trenton and Monroe remain the class in this league," noted Ferguson. "Belleville, Wyandotte and our kids are in the middle of the pack, while Lincoln Park and Fordson, because they failed to pass a millage, may not have teams this year."

Wayne will return to the league at 4 p.m., testing Wyandotte. The meet will be at Wyandotte.

Double crown

Robichaud opens title defense in easy win, 34-8

Robichaud opened the defense of the Suburban Athletic Conference football title Friday afternoon with an easy 34-8 victory over Ecorse.

But head coach Bob Yauck warns that his Bulldogs will have to dig in and play a more consistent brand of defense if they plan to remain in the chase for their third straight conference title.

On Friday, the SAC champs will travel to Oak Park, a team that has been able to give Robichaud the fits on the gridiron in recent years.

"Oak Park has one of the top receivers in the state in Brian Alford," said Yauck. "Among this year's senior crop, Alford stands out. We must stop him. If we don't it's going to be a long afternoon over there."

That may be easier said than done.

Alford may be a key player, but the supporting staff also contains veteran personnel.

Robichaud also has to contend with an Oak Park team that has personnel returning in almost all of the skilled positions.

"And, when you're the defending champ, everyone is out to prove a point. I know that their coaching staff won't need added incentive to get their team up for this game."

Ecorse didn't pose a problem to the Bulldogs, although the Red Raiders managed to hold the champs scoreless the first quarter.

It may have taken quarterback Tom Massey a little time to grease up the Robichaud scoring machine, but once in motion, Robichaud was unstoppable.

Bulldog running back Michael Orsette broke the deadlock early in the second quarter. The senior back scored the first of his two touchdowns on a 14-yard, off-tackle run, giving the champs a 6-0 lead.

Then, Robichaud's defense took over. It managed to stop Ecorse in the next series and, in fact, cashed in a Red Raider miscue for a two-point safety.

The next time Robichaud had possession, it was Orsette again who tallied. This time the speedy running back raced into the end zone from 6-yards out.

Robichaud failed to convert the extra point, but settled for

Penalty-plagued Inkster falls

Coach Vic Calhoun figures his Vikings of Inkster High beat Willow Run in almost every statistic except where it counts the most - the final score.

Inkster racked up a phenomenal 450 total yards - the most a Viking offense has generated in a single game in recent years, but it went to waste as Willow Run stopped the frustrated Vikings 20-6 on Friday.

The first-year Inkster coach pointed to the penalty column for the team's problem and his team's second loss in three starts. Inkster was charged with 110-yards for its untimely infractions.

"We were in striking distance on six separate occasions," noted Calhoun, "and we came away empty handed. Penalties killed us. On one trip we were at their 15, and two plays later back at the 40."

"Frustrating - you bet it was."

The loss also spoiled the Vikings' inaugural appearance at Eastern Michigan University which hosted a Suburban Athletic Conference gala-celebration.

"The kids loved playing over there. The loss spoiled the day."

Down 14-0 midway in the second quarter, the Vikings pulled off an 85-yard pass-run touchdown play that jolted the Willow Run Flyers and put them back in the game, 14-6.

The play put quarterback Robert Gatewood in the spotlight as he singled out wide receiver Richard Cooper on a quick 10-yard toss. Cooper grabbed the pass, turned around and raced the rest of the way into the end zone.

"The kids loved playing over there. The loss spoiled the day."

- coach Vic Calhoun

"It was beautifully executed," said Calhoun, who confessed that he was waiting for the officials to call the TD back. "They were calling everything against us, so I said to myself, 'bet they will find some way to nullify this one, too'."

Fullback Terrance Carter had an exceptional day. He rushed for 125 yards in 13 attempts. Teammate, Rich Cole, a tailback, accounted for 135-yards on 14 carries while Gatewood had 42 yards on 10 rushes.

Defensively, Maurice Ballard, an end; Mark Nichols, a tackle, and Fred Davis, also a tackle, distinguished themselves in the pits.

On Saturday, the Vikings will attempt to cut a modest 2-game losing streak at Jackson Lumen Christi. It won't be easy. Jackson is boasting a 3-0 record and is ranked third among the Class BB teams.

"You know no one has beaten us this year. We have beaten ourselves with the penalties and turnovers," Calhoun said. "If we can just eliminate some of our mistakes, we'll win. I look for us to give Jackson a good game over there."

Last-play touchdown ends Belleville 2-game win streak

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Any time your team loses, it hurts. And the pain is compounded when the loss is dealt on a last-play, last-second play.

That's what happened to Belleville Friday night - they suffered a painful last-second defeat at the hands of the Bruins of Wyandotte.

"What can you say?" asked first-year Belleville coach Bob LaPointe after his Tigers dropped a 17-13 to Wyandotte in the first real thriller involving a local high school team. "We asked the kids to play hard, and they did. But we also made some key mistakes - a fumble of a punt, a letdown in our pass coverage. We paid for those mistakes.

"It's a learning experience that our kids will build upon."

The loss - the first of the season for Belleville and the first for LaPointe as the Tigers' head coach - left Belleville with a 1-1 Wolverine 'A' Conference record and a 2-1 overall mark. The Tigers will attempt to get back on track Friday night at Lincoln Park.

The Parkers were soundly defeated by Fordson in their last outing, 28- 0, and LaPointe said the score surprised him.

"Lincoln Park has an excellent team. I don't know what went wrong for them against Fordson, but I know they'll be out to redeem themselves against us. We better come ready to play."

LaPointe stressed that the Tiger defense must stop versatile L.P. quarterback Phil Barbaroso if the Tigers hope to win.

"The defense will have its hands full," LaPointe said. "Lincoln Park's QB is one of the finest I have seen. He can throw with authority and has deceptive speed. If we can't contain him, we won't be in the same ball park."

Belleville struck first against Wyandotte as Darryl Montie scored on a 47-yarder midway in the opening quarter. Curtis Lunsford converted to make it a 7-0 ball game.

And that's the way it remained until the third quarter when Wyandotte erupted for 10 points - three via a sensational 52-yard field goal by James DeLong.

In the fourth quarter, Belleville was given another chance thanks to a broken play.

The play called for a pass, however, Belleville quarterback Ralph Pruitt gave up on the attempt when he found his receivers covered. He bolted out of the pocket and the chase was on. The junior QB beat the defense in a 43-yard foot-chase that provided the Tigers with the six go-ahead points.

Now, the Tiger defense was had the task to protect a 13-10 lead and managed to do it until a last-play TD pass penetrated the air defenses and shattered the Tigers' hopes.

Truitt, who rushed for 103 yards on nine carries, completed only one of 11 passes for 10 yards. But five of the incompletions were "right on target."

"He (Truitt) threw well," noted LaPointe. "Our receivers dropped some easy passes."

Marty Sacco, who rushed for 95 yards in 18 attempts, was turned away from the goal line for the first time this season. The rugged Belleville back has been the mainstay of the Tiger backfield.

Montie, a middle linebacker, Al Barnett and Curtis Balogh, ends, stood out on defense.

Win

a 14-0 lead at intermission.

When the teams returned to the field in the third quarter, Massey decided to test the Ecorse aerial defenses. He found a flaw early in the quarter and put Phil Kubitz on the firing line for the Bulldogs' next TD. The two combined on a 9-yard TD pass.

Orsette took the handoff from Massey and broke through for the two-point conversion.

Later, in the final chapter, Massey and Kubitz coauthored the Bulldogs last score - an 18-yard pass. That was preceded by Troy Wells' 5-yard TD run that culminated a mid-field TD march.

Ecorse scored against Robichaud's reserves in the closing minutes of the game to avert the shutout.

"Ecorse is a better ball club this year than it was a year ago," Yauck said. "There is noticeable improvement. Our kids knew that they were in a football game."

Orsette led the offense with 102 yards on 11 tries and two TDs. Massey finished the afternoon with a six-of-nine passing effort that rolled up 115 yards and a pair of touchdowns.

Tackle Leslie Thomas accounted for four sacks and teammate Andre Johnson, also tackle, was credited with putting a lot of pressure on Ecorse runners.
